

RECRUITING INFORMATION

SUGGESTIONS TO GET YOUR DAUGHTER NOTICED:

1. Going to showcase tournaments.
2. Develop a Player Bio.
3. Create a player website which includes a skills video.
4. Contact college coaches before you attend a showcase tournaments.
5. Attend at least 1-2 camps per year.
6. Register with NCAA Clearinghouse now known as the NCAA Eligibility Center, by your Junior year. This is required if you plan to do on campus recruiting visits to D-1 schools

Player vs. Coaches contact:

1. Players/parents can contact a coach at anytime, but a coach cannot contact a player personally until July 1st following their Junior year

How to find coaches contact information:

1. Coaches contact information is usually in the school Bio or staffing directory sections, usually in the athletic section/website of their specific sport.

Websites to get questions answered or ideas on how to do the recruiting process:

1. athnet.net
2. athleticscholarship.net
3. NCSA athletic recruiting
4. ncsasports.org

Note:

1. Each player and parent need to get their recruiting strategy started ASAP. Coaches do not get players recruited, players get themselves recruited. Coaches can assist and direct with honest feedback about your talent level.
2. College coaches look for players that are committed year round to their sport.
3. GPA scores will determine what score you need on your SAT tests; example... if yor GPA is 3.55 you will need a minimum score of 400 on your SAT, ( the higher the score the better ).
